About the Lecture

The presentation will be combined with a recital based on Mr. Kielbowicz own work. The author's goal is to bring closer and better understanding of the value of poetry, especially sung poetry, in the life of each person, and to inspire closer contact with poetry in everyday life.

About the Lecturer

Mariusz Kielbowicz is the author of over a hundred songs and poems, he discovered in himself a passion for sung poetry through pilgrimage songs and inspiration from the works of Stachura, Kaczmarski and Młynarski. He dedicates his own creativity to the values closest to his heart - God, Family and Community. He grew up in a wonderful home and tries to build a more beautiful world, which he has loved since childhood. A happy husband and father of three children, he has been pursuing his life goals in Philadelphia for over 30 years in the company of his family and devoted friends. A lover of healthy living, nature and music.
